

Can I bring more than 4 people?

No, sorry. Our arrangement with the restaurants is for reservations of 2 to 4 people (including children of all ages). If you make a reservation for 4 people the restaurant will have a table reserved for 4 people, not more. The deal does not apply to single diners.

How do such high calibre restaurants afford to discount their meals by 50%?

First Tables are very limited - and always at non busy times. Savvy restaurateurs offer a table that is usually empty as a promotional tool to attract new people to try their venue, knowing that if they show you a wonderful time you will tell your friends and return again.

Why are there so many conditions on First Table bookings?

First Table creates a win-win environment where both diners AND restaurants enjoy clear benefits. The conditions are there to achieve this balance.

Can I take my food away?

Meals are to be ordered for dine in purposes only. Fair use policy applies, over ordering and taking leftovers away is not permitted under the First Table deal.

What happens if I'm late for my reservation?

The 50% off meals deal is only available for the date and time you have booked. If you are more than 15 minutes late the deal is off.

Can I pick which table to sit at?

The restaurant will likely have a designated table for their First Table diners.

Are there any exclusions?
